

Our commitment to you:

- Taking part in the project is voluntary and you are free to withdraw at any time without giving a reason.
- You will not be identified from the research - researchers do not see your name with your information – they just see your barcode ID number.
- Every research project is checked to make sure it meets the highest scientific and ethical standards.
- In the same way as a doctor who treats you is bound to keep your information confidential, Children of the 90s, and all the researchers we work with, are bound to keep your information confidential.
- There are independent experts whose job it is to look at what we do and how we do it to make sure your rights are protected.
- We do not do commercial research - all our research aims to benefit society and is not for profit. We are funded by the University of Bristol, charities including the Wellcome Trust and the British Heart Foundation and also the Medical Research Council.

Professor George Davey Smith

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "George Davey Smith". The signature is written in a cursive style and is underlined with a single horizontal line.

Scientific Director of Children of the 90s