

Invitation to the Annual Bristol Partnership Conference 24th June 2009

Could the recession be your best opportunity to make a difference in Bristol?

Are you:

- Responsible for delivering service to the vulnerable and disadvantaged in Bristol?
 - Pulled in all directions, feeling overwhelmed?
 - Feeling constrained by the credit crunch / recession?
- Open and willing to explore new possibilities for the delivery of public service in Bristol?
- Needing time and space to think about your purpose and how to deliver it?
 - Willing to try something new in service of your goals?

If you answer YES to any, or all, of these questions then this day is for you...

Who will be there?

- Operations managers and leaders from a wide body of statutory, not for profit, voluntary, and business agencies: all committed to making Bristol a better place to live for everybody.

What will you do?

- Get some expert inputs and new ways of thinking
- Have space to think and bounce ideas off like-minded people
- Make new powerful and new connections, get support for your causes
- Generate new ideas and actions for the delivery of service in Bristol

What's in it for you?

- The possibility of creating a supportive and enduring network of like-minded people
- Challenge and support to your thinking
- Space to think, make new connections, mobilise support for your causes
- Information about challenges and opportunities for Bristol in the recession

What's in it for your organisation?

- Providing better outcomes, more efficiently and effectively
- Collaborating with others for the benefit of them, you – and Bristol!
