Knowledge Mobilisation – Impacts to date

Co-produced research projects

Academics

↑ Knowledge of KM through lifecycle of research.

↑ Knowledge of commissioning including budget & government pressures.

↑ Confidence to engage with commissioners.

↑ Commissioners inputting into research.

↑ Awareness of KM within academic senior management.

↑ access to commissioners.

KM Team

↑ New networks and contacts developed.

↑ Understanding of seconded organisation and its work.

↑ Confidence from working outside home organisation.

↑ KM skills & enhanced understanding of KM as an academic subject.

↑ Development of skills in how to engage different people and bring them together.

↑ Evaluation skills.

Spotting opportunities to make links for mutual benefit.

Commissioners

↑ Knowledge about evaluations and systematic reviews.

↑ Understanding of value of robust evaluations and systematic reviews.

↑ Recognition of collaborative working with academics.

↑ Awareness of the world of research within commissioning senior management.

↑ awareness of what evidence based commissioning really means in practice.

Co-produced service evaluations

↑ Service evaluation capacity & capability

More meaningful input from commissioner co-applicants on major grants

Collaborative working, both organisations considering evidence informed commissioning and commissioning informed research