

Bristol's original street food collective

Back in 2013 : BEats (Bristol Eats) Bristol's street food collective was formed.

BEats, is a true, Bristol-based street food collective and was created by a group of street food traders in The Lakota car park. We have been serving the finest street food in Bristol through a series of successful events and markets ever since.

We love a party and our experienced traders can cater for the main event or satisfy your guests with some relaxed street food eating from around the World, all served up with a passion for what they do.

Our Private Booking packages start from £200 and we can cater for up to 150 people in a service window. We can also provide multiple traders if the venue has capacity to cater for larger parties, we are happy to help with logistics with the venue, arrange tastings and take the stress.

Lunch Bag - from £10 per head
£10 Delivery Charge
Minimum 20 covers or £200 + VAT
Maximum 150 covers
Lead Time 3 days
PO required to confirm chosen trader
Payment in full 14 days after to the event

Please visit the website www.bristoleats.co.uk in order to see what we do and view individual traders profiles before choosing who to book which can be done online.

For further information about BEats and street food in Bristol, contact Darrin on 07948 816441 or email darrin@bristoleats.co.uk