

Plain facts

Services for older people with learning difficulties

Jane Fitzgerald looked at services for older people with learning difficulties. She asked people what kind of services they want.

 Some older people are still living in hospitals for people with learning difficulties.

 Older people should be able to choose where they live, and who they live with.

 Many older people want to spend their time with people their own age.

 Many older people want the staff that help them to be older too.