Selection process

Assessment of applications

All applicants are considered in line with the University's Admissions Principles and Procedures Policy. Once a complete application has been submitted with all required supporting documents, it is considered by the postgraduate team and the proposed supervisors or senior members of academic staff.

Shortlisted applicants are then invited for interview. We aim to reach a decision within three to four weeks of receiving complete applications.

Where we receive a large volume of high-quality applications for a small number of places, we shortlist applicants for interview based on qualifications, and research and personal statements.

Interviews

Interviews form part of the selection process unless the applicant has already secured a nationally competitive studentship.

Interviews are typically conducted by members of the postgraduate team and potential supervisors, at least one of whom is trained in fair and effective recruitment techniques. Interviews are used to assess applicants' academic and professional potential and to provide feedback on the proposed research. Interviews may include an oral research presentation.

Interviewees based overseas will normally be interviewed by video conference.

Decisions

Applicants will be notified by email when a decision has been made and decision letters will be available to view and print by logging into the application. If there is a deadline by which applicants must accept an offer of admission or pay a deposit, this will be stated in the offer letter.

Offers

Offers will typically be made in line with the academic requirements set out above.

Offers made may be conditional or unconditional. An unconditional offer will be made to applicants who have already met the conditions and provided evidence of this. Where academic or language requirements have not yet been fulfilled, applicants will receive a conditional offer outlining the requirements that must be met.

If an applicant is not selected to receive an offer for the course to which they have originally applied, we may offer the opportunity to be considered for an alternative programme in a related subject area. In such cases applicants will receive an email notification providing any alternative course options and asking whether they wish to be considered for these. It may be necessary for applicants to submit additional documentation for the application to be fully considered for an alternative programme. Details of the documentation required can be found in the admissions statement for the relevant programme.

Deferrals

Deferrals are only permitted in exceptional circumstances but may be possible for self-funded students. Please contact brms-pgradmin@bristol.ac.uk if you would like to discuss the possibility of deferring your start date.
